I told Clymer of this once last
the day and spittle has not yet been used upon his eyes and he is of those "having eyes yet see not."

His claims have enabled him to secure considerable money from the public but I fear he has to some degree harmed the public conception
of the Rosy Cross and its ideals.

Thanking you for the brochure
and with best wishes for your own progress I remain

Yours very sincerely

Dear Mr. Marston -

I regret that the photograph arrived too late for use. It was in storage and I had to send for it.

I have a very good photograph of P. B. Randolph with his autograph; it is a letter from F. B. Dowd in his own handwriting recognizing me as Grand Master of the Rosy Cross and requesting me to follow him as head of the Fraternity as he has followed Randolph. All the 3rd degree members were notified by him in writing at the same time.

I have a letter from R. T. Clymer requesting me to appoint him as Grand Master and to take the office of Hierarch of Esbes.

At my request Clymer was instructed in the 1st degree by the late Dr. Phelps of Dorchester and in the second degree by myself.

Because of his continual literary piracy and lack of appreciation of the higher ideals of the Fraternity I refused his repeated requests to admit him to further knowledge.

He finally called on Randolph's widow (a lady who was not herself initiated so Dowd informed me) and purchased the right to use some pamphlets he had left and which were intended to be placed only in the hands of trusted men.

His extraordinary claims are all based on nothing more than this, as he has not the spiritual gifts but operates from the standpoint of self exaltation, what would it raise him an excellent illustration becoming perverted into an intellectual egoism to a degree that makes one only believe he is what he wishes he were.

He personally dominates to a degree which suppresses an expression of the spiritual man such as that I think he might otherwise be capable of.

There are many members of our little Fraternity much farther advanced than Clymer.

The late Dr. Street (author of the "Hidden Way Across The Threshold") once told me of a good motto for those who climb the mountain of attainment.

It was to "Know All But Keep Thyself Unknown"
